National Geography Day 14th Jan 2025

The "National Geography Day" was celebrated with great enthusiasm at the Maratha Vidya Prasarak Samaj's Guruvarya Mamasahab Dandekar Arts, Bhagwantrao Waje Commerce and Science College, Sinnar, under the initiative of the Geography Department. The event was presided over by the college principal, Dr. P.V. Rasal, while the vice-principal, Prof. R.V. Pawar, and the head of the Political Science Department, Prof. A.A. Pote, were the chief guests for the occasion.

The program began with an introductory address by Dr. B.R. Tambe from the Geography Department, who explained the purpose and importance of celebrating Geography Day. He also introduced the guests and elaborated on the national significance of Geography Day. Prof. L.A. Kalskar further shared his views on how geography can be studied through tourism. Meanwhile, Prof. A.L. Bhagat gave a presentation highlighting the historical importance of geography, the evolution of the subject over time, its various branches, and the career opportunities available for students' pursuing geography in the future.

Vice-principal Prof. R.V. Pawar, in his address, emphasized that studying geography is essential for human life. He pointed out that many aspects of daily life are directly connected to geography, which is a subject that interrelates with all other disciplines, making it the source of all fields of knowledge.

Principal Dr. P.V. Rasal, in his presidential speech, reflected on the lessons nature and geography teach humanity. He stressed the moral responsibilities that individuals develop toward society through the study of geography and emphasized the importance of fulfilling these responsibilities.

The program was organized under the leadership of department head Prof. S.B. Bhise, who provided valuable support. Assistant Professor Ugale madam delivered the vote of thanks. The program saw active participation from faculty members of various departments and a large number of students. Postgraduate student Vandana Borhade anchored the event, while Mr. S.I. Jadhav, non-teaching staff from the department, contributed significantly to the success of the event.
